Event 2

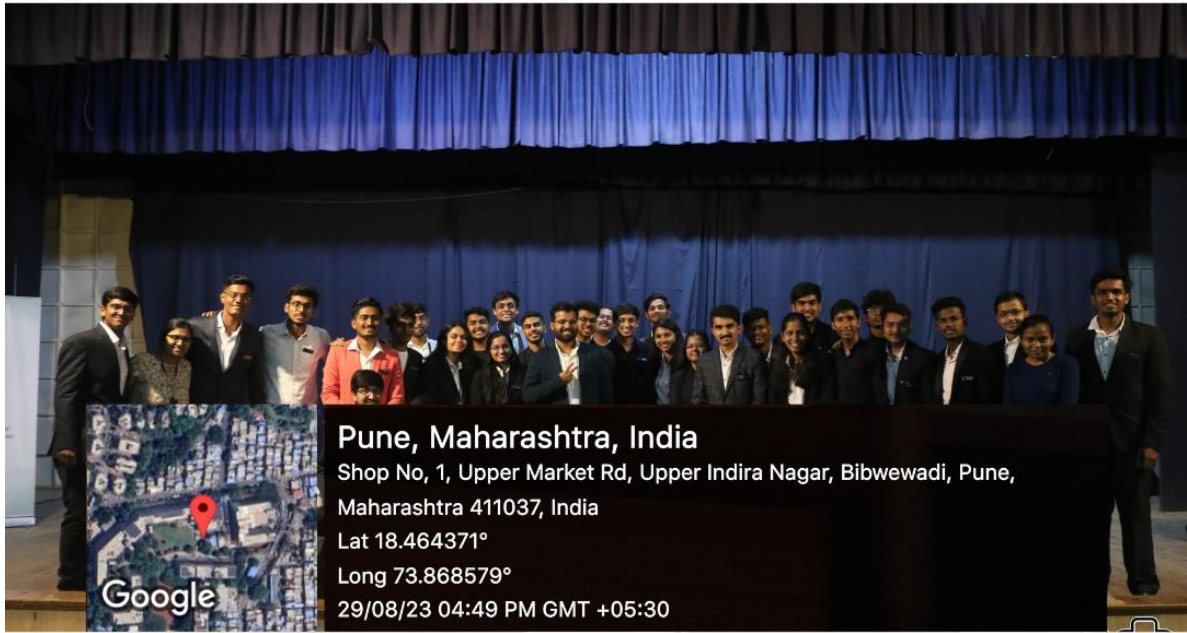

Name of the event:	Engineering Unplugged
Dates of event:	15 September 2023
Online Platform/ Venue:	Sharad Arena(Auditorium), VIT Pune
Event span (hours/days)	3 hours
Footfall/Total attendance	300+
Name and contact of the key organiser(s)	Apoorva Kulkarni - +91 80876 90137 Dushyant Gajipara - +91 72496 53593 Siddhesh Desai - +91 75586 12763
No. of people involved in the organising committee (all levels of hierarchy included, Core team to Volunteers)	141 (2 Advisors + 3 Presidents + 6 Executives + 29 heads + 101 coordinators)
Objective of the event	“Engineering Unplugged”, an event. specifically catered to the freshers of our college, aims to clear all potential doubts or anticipations they might have regarding academic or non-academic skills through personalised interactions with brilliant engineering minds, budding entrepreneurs, and former VITian who have faced similar challenges during their tenure in college and the steps they implemented to overcome them. The event commenced on the auspicious day of Engineers Day, wherein we gave the freshers an awesome opportunity to get insights and guidance about how to make the most of engineering college life.
Brief description of the said event	The event began with our main speakers, Harish Uthayakumar and Shreyansh Sancheti, the co-founders of the fast-growing ed-tech startup Bluelearn, being interviewed by one of our Presidents about their time at college, the history and future of Bluelearn, as well as their experiences after being selected in “Forbes 30 under 30 Asia”. They also answered a few questions from the freshers curious to know more about them.! Next, we had another renowned speaker - Adit Yadav, an online coaching instructor, who delivered an intriguing presentation,

	highlighting the high-demanding skills and technologies in the current as well as future job sectors, along with answering a few questions asked by our anchors. In between, we had a fun activity where we asked the audience to describe their student life so far with a movie title and those with creative answers were awarded merchandise from Eduwrite. Also, the attendees who asked good questions were given merchandise from BlueLearn. Next, we had former VITian Anushka Kulkarni, reporting analyst and notable influencer (gavarchi_sheng), interacting with the freshers, describing her experiences and valuable lessons learned during her four years in college, and motivating them to engage in extracurricular activities to elevate their soft skills and improve their expectations for college life. Finally, we had educators from Chanakya Mandal Pariwar, an institution that aims to prepare students for civil service exams like UPSC, MPSC, etc., to engage with the audience who are aspiring to become reputable civil servants and also focused on the importance of certain life skills.
Key event outcomes	The event was significant as the freshers got a chance to interact with brilliant engineering minds and professional education coaches to give them a clear understanding of the skills and technologies required in today 's fast-paced world as well as clear their doubts personally. They got a profound understanding and what direction to follow for their next four years in college. Important points regarding preparation for civil service exams and startup ideas for tech or non-tech fields were efficiently conveyed by our esteemed speakers to the audiences, along with sharing incidents from their own lives to motivate the students.

	Attendees got to know about how to spend their further 4 years of college, what fields they can explore, and what opportunities the college and the club culture of VIT offers to them.
